

Charter Customers Watching More Video On Demand With More Choices than Ever

Movies same day as DVD release, mobile reminders, and 6,000+ choices

St. Louis, MO – Charter Communications' digital video customers are watching more Video On Demand programming with a record 110 million programs viewed from July through September of this year. Driving the growth are the many choices and features now available with the service. With Charter On Demand, customers can watch what they want, when they want by simply going to the On Demand menu on Channel 1.

Charter On Demand hosts a vast library of video entertainment, including primetime shows, original cable programming and movies from premium cable networks, and a selection of Hollywood hits that are available the same day as they are released on DVD in stores. On Demand users can always view a full listing of new releases and programming available at Charter.net/ondemand, and now, customers can also be reminded of when their favorite content is available.

A new On Demand reminder service sends customers text or email reminders alerting them about upcoming movie releases, events or premieres available On Demand. Customers can easily register and then receive these reminders by title or category searches of their favorite entertainment by visiting www.charter.net/reminders.

“By using Charter On Demand, our customers have access to a wide range of outstanding network shows this fall. There are more than 50 programs from our On Demand Primetime Free category, many of which are available a day after their cable television premiere. Without question, the availability of these shows on Charter On Demand coupled with new features like our text and email reminders, takes our customers' viewing experience to the next level.”
